Primary Report Card Key

Below is a specific explanation for each of the assessment levels used on the primary (Kindergarten-3rd) report card. This key will help guide you through understanding your child's ability during each grading period. Please contact your child's teacher for additional information.

AS-Area of Strength	A student will receive AS on their report card if they are consistently above grade level. Student requires work to be differentiated with enrichment activities because they have already mastered the content. They demonstrate a deep understanding of the content.
SP-Satisfactory Progress	A student will receive SP on their report card if they are consistently at grade level. The content is new to them, but they always learn it easily. Student is on track to master the content by the end of the school year without differentiation of the material or instruction.
PH-Progressing with Help	A student will receive PH on their report card if they are making progress toward mastery of the content and are on track to master the content by the end of the school year. Student is learning the content, but requires support from the teacher such as guided questions, prompting/cueing, etc.
AC-Area of Concern	A student will receive AC on their report card if they are not making progress or the progress is not sufficient for the student to master the content by the end of the school year. Student requires work to be differentiated with reduced work, foundational content objectives (versus content being learned by the rest of the class), or one-on-one help.
